To toss to second on Gardner's bunt after Wood had opened with a hit. Sewell sent Uhle, running for Wamby, to third with another of his habitual bingles, whereupon Jezebel got the gate. This gave Jim Shaw a chance to stage his famous relief stunt by forcing Burns to hit into a double play.

Instead of succumbing to Al Schacht's curves in the ninth, the Tribe gave him a robust welcome, Nunamaker opened with a hit to O'Rourke and took second when Blackle" made a ten-foots overthrow of first. Covey laid down a bunt and all hands were safe when Schacht made a belated throw to third in an eort to blot out Nunamaker. This brought young Jamieson up, batting in the place of Evans. Jamie cracked a double over to first, scoring Nunamaker.

After Wamby and Speaker had flied out, Elmer Smith socked another two-sacker to right, counting Cayey and Jamie. Gardner followed this by walking, but Sewell Gardner fo

Smith batted for Shaw in the eighth and Wamby tossed him out In the ninth there was a faint ray of hope when Miller singled with one down. Shanks skied to Speaker, one down. Shanks skied to Speaker, but Gharrity drew a pass, the first issued by Coveleskie during the afternoon. Milan batted for O'Rourke and also walked. Walter Johnson was injected as a pinch swatter to bat for Schacht and forced Milan at second on a tap to Sewell. Thus

Three straight defeats have hit the Griffmen hard. They are now five and a half games behind the Indians and three games in the rear of the Yanks, who licked Detroit yesterday.

Detroit's defeat was the only thing that kept the locals from slipping back into fourth place.
